ANOTHER DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

French and British Attack on Wide Front.

FORCE GERMAN ARMIES BACK

Gains Reported by Paris and London
Are in the Center of the Teutonic Positions on the Somme Front—Little Activity in Eastern Theater.

London, Aug. 19.—Assaults by British and French forces against German positions north of the Somme in France gained additional ground, both the British and French war offices report.

The French advance was in and around Maurepas, the scene of much hard fighting during the last few weeks, and the British gain was in the direction of Ginchy and Guillemont, near the southern end of their section of the Somme front.

The Anglo-French attack, London says, took place along the whole line from Pozieres to the Somme.

The gains reported by Paris and London were in the center of the German positions on the Somme front and mark another step in the Anglo-French advance toward Comblès. French troops gained more ground in the village of Maurepas.

After the stopping of German counter attacks near the village, Cavalry hill, southeast of the village, was carried by assault and the French position on the Maurepas-Cléry road also was extended.

British troops advanced successfully in the region of Ginchy and Guillemont and seized more German positions. London mentions no gain on any other part of this front.

Few Prisoners Captured.

The Anglo-French forces captured more than 400 prisoners in their advance.

The French offensive continues on the right bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun region, and Paris chronicles the capture of two fortified redoubts northwest of the Thiaumont work. Progress also is reported for the French east of the Vaux-Chapitre wood.

Berlin reports attacks by the French and British forces north of the Somme, but says all of them were repulsed except one by the British in the direction of Martinpuich. A French gain around Fleury in the Verdun region is admitted.

There has been little activity on the Eastern front, according to the official reports.

Most of the fighting has been in the Carpathian mountain region, where both the Russians and the Austro-Germans claim to have made some slight advances. Petrograd says the Austro-Germans are attacking in Galicia, but with no success.

The Teutonic allies have taken the offensive on the Greco-Serbian frontier, north of Saloniki, and Berlin reports the capture of the Greek town of Florina from Serbian troops.

This movement probably is in answer to the recent entente allied activity on the same front.

Artillery bombardments are taking place on the Austro-Italian front around Gorizia. Rome claims an advance for the Italians in the Trentino.

Would Mean Bankruptcy.

NORTHWEST ROADS WILL NOT YIELD

St. Paul, Aug. 19.—"If every other railroad in the country should accept the eight-hour principle we would stand out alone against it," Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern road, said.

"But we will not have to stand alone," Mr. Hill continued. "Our position is the position of every other railroad in the Northwest. As a matter of fact it is the position of every big railroad in the country. The railroads are going to stand solidly against the eight-hour day."

"We never have been in the hands of a receiver yet and we are not going into a receiver's hands now, you may be sure of that," the Great Northern president added with emphasis.

Mr. Hill was asked if the adoption of the eight-hour principle would mean receiverships for the big railroads.

"That is just what it would mean. It could mean nothing else. We are in no position to adopt the eight-hour day. It would cripple our train service so we could not operate."

Mr. Hill added that the railroad men knew how to profit from their own and the experiences of others.

INDIAN LAND SALE IS ATTACKED IN COURT

Minneapolis, Aug. 19.—Francis J. Kearful, special assistant to the United States attorney general, and Leslie C. Garnet, associate counsel, filed a brief for the September term of the United States circuit court of appeals in the case of the United States against Lucky S. Waller and Mamie S. Waller, involving purchase of White Earth Indian lands after the passage of the Clapp amendment.

The case is typical of the many recently settled by agreement between Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, and R. J. Powell, attorney for the land owners on the White Earth reservation.

The government, in the brief as filed, takes the position that notwithstanding the passage of the Clapp amendment, which gave the Indians the right to sell their lands, the incompetent Indians still remained in a condition of pupillage towards the government.

The case in point involved alleged fraud in obtaining from two Indians a land parcel valued at $700 by having the Indians attest a paper thought by them to be a receipt for $50 on part payment, but which was in fact a warranty deed for the land.

HOLD UP PASSENGER TRAIN

Mexican Rebels Make Prisoners of the Carranza Guard.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 19.—Sixty revolutionists held up a passenger train on the Mexican National railway near Aguas Calientes, Durango, taking prisoners the twenty-five Carranza soldiers comprising the escort, according to passengers aboard the train which arrived here.

Two baggagemen also were taken captive, but the remainder of the crew and the passengers were unmolested, they said.

The revolutionists, who surrounded the train at a small station, told passengers, they said, that they belonged to a recently organized revolutionary group calling themselves "Legalistas."

On their hats they wore ribbons in the red, white and green of Mexico, with the word "Legalista" stamped on them.

STRIKE DANGER IS INCREASING

Railway Presidents Oppose the Eight-Hour Day.

MAY REJECT WILSON'S PLAN

Chief Executive Hopes Roads Will
Make Some Counter Proposal That
May Afford a Basis of Settlement
With Employees.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The threatener nationwide railway strike appears nearer than at any time since the White House negotiations began.

It is practically conceded that the railroads will reject definitely President Wilson's proposal for the eight-hour day.

The hope of the president now is pinned to the report that the railroads will make counter proposals which may afford a basis of settlement.

Administration officials continue to express optimism and declare their belief that some solution will be found other than a walkout.

Thirty-one presidents and ranking officials of the great railroads received from the president his plan for the adoption of an eight-hour day, regular pro rata pay for overtime and creation of a federal commission to investigate collateral issues.

They told him they would like to consider the question and would report back with the committee of managers which has been conducting negotiations.

At the same time the general committee of 640 representatives of the employees were approving the president's plan by a large majority and soon after the railroad officials left the White House the four heads of the railroad brotherhoods delivered to the president a letter notifying him of the vote.

The employees' committee will remain here at the president's call.

Oppose Wilson's Plan.

While the railroad officials would make no formal statement they revealed clearly their opposition to Mr. Wilson's plan and indicated that they would press further their offer to arbitrate all the points at issue.

In spite of these developments, it was reported, the officials might suggest a counter proposal based on the acceptance of the eight-hour day and arbitration of all other points, instead of the investigation by a federal commission proposed under the president's plan.

It was stated positively, however, that the officials had reached no definite decision on their future course.

In case the president finds no hope of settlement during his conference with the railroad officials he probably will summon to Washington some of the powerful financiers of the country serving as directors of the railroads.

Administration officials said he had by no means given up hope of effecting a settlement and was determined that it shall be reached if possible before the representatives of both sides now here leave Washington.

In their informal statements the railroad officials insisted on arbitration on the ground that if they gave in this time it would mean the abandonment of the principles of arbitration and because they feared if they granted the eight-hour day with its consequent added expenses without resort to arbitration it would prejudice any appeal they might make later to the interstate commerce commission for higher freight rates.

BRITISH CLAIM RIGHT TO CENSOR CABLES

London, Aug. 19.—The British reply to the American inquiry in regard to the operation of the censorship in transit of American news cabled from Germany by way of London will be sent to Washington in the course of a few days. Discussing this subject Lord Robert Cecil, war trade minister, said:

"Considerable misapprehension evidently exists in regard to our censorship of transit matter."

"There is no question of our right to censor matter which enjoys the facilities of our wires and cables. Such a censorship is necessary as long as Germany continues in absolute control of all information from that country. If Germany should abandon the censorship we would not interfere with dispatches from unbiased American correspondents."

"Another reason we now censor much matter is the fact that Germany circulates in other countries dispatches set to American newspapers as the comment of those papers."

STRIKE DANGER IS INCREASING

Railway Presidents Oppose the
Eight-Hour Day.

MAY REJECT WILSON'S PLAN

Chief Executive Hopes Roads Will
Make Some Counter Proposal That
May Afford a Basis of Settlement
With Employees.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The threatened nationwide railway strike appears nearer than at any time since the White House negotiations began.
It is practically conceded that the railroads will reject definitely President Wilson's proposal for the eight-hour day.

The hope of the president now is pinned to the report that the railroads will make counter proposals which
may afford a basis of settlement.

Administration officials continue to express optimism and declare their belief that some solution will be found other than a walkout.

Thirty-one presidents and ranking officials of the great railroads received from the president his plan for the adoption of an eight-hour day, regular pro rata pay for overtime and creation of a federal commission to investigate collateral issues.

They told him they would like to consider the question and would report back with the committee of managers which has been conducting negotiations.

At the same time the general committee of 640 representatives of the employees were approving the president's plan by a large majority and soon after the railroad officials left the White House the four heads of the railroad brotherhoods delivered to the president a letter notifying him of the vote.

The employees' committee will remain here at the president's call.

Oppose Wilson's Plan.

While the railroad officials would make no formal statement they revealed clearly their opposition to Mr.
Wilson's plan and indicated that they would press further their offer to arbitrate all the points at issue.

In spite of these developments, it was reported, the officials might suggest a counter proposal based on the acceptance of the eight-hour day and arbitration of all other points, instead of the investigation by a federal commission proposed under the president's plan.

It was stated positively, however,
that the officials had reached no definite decision on their future course.

In case the president finds no hope of settlement during his conference with the railroad officials he probably will summon to Washington some of the powerful financiers of the country
serving as directors of the railroads.

Administration officials said he had
by no means given up hope of effecting a settlement and was determined that it shall be reached if possible before the representatives of both sides
now here leave Washington.

In their informal statements the railroad officials insisted on arbitration on the ground that if they gave in this time it would mean the abandonment of the principles of arbitration and because they feared if they granted the eight-hour day with its consequent added expenses without resort to arbitration it would prejudice any appeal they might make later to the Interstate commerce commission for higher freight rates.

BRITISH CLAIM RIGHT TO CENSOR CABLES

Lord Robert Cecil, war trade minister, said:

"Considerable misapprehension evidently exists in regard to our censorship of transit matter."

"There is no question of our right to censor matter which enjoys the facilities of our wires and cables. Such a censorship is necessary as long as Germany continues in absolute control of all information from that country. If Germany should abandon the censorship we would not interfere with dispatches from unbiased American correspondents."

"Another reason we now censor matter is the fact that Germany circulates in other countries dispatches as to American newspapers
as the comment of those papers."

POLITICS EVEN IN SUPREME COURT

Impossible to Keep Partisanship Out of Tribunal.

MAY CHANGE COMPLEXION

If Wilson Is Re-elected He Will Have Power to Appoint Successors to Republicans Who Have Reached Age Limit—The Effect of This on November Election.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 19.—[Special.]—It has often been asserted that there is or should be no politics in the supreme court. But men were partisans before they became members of the court and the partisanship of Mr. Hughes since he became the Republican candidate shows that a man does not lose his party feeling by becoming a justice of the highest court.

In this connection it is interesting to note that in all probability the political complexion of the court will be changed if Mr. Wilson is re-elected and that for the first time in fifty years a majority of the court will be Democrats.

At the present there are five Republicans and four Democrats on the court, the resignation of Justice Hughes giving Mr. Wilson an opportunity to add the fourth Democrat to the membership.

Possible Changes.

Before March 4, 1921, when the next presidential term will end, Chief Justice White will be seventy-five, Justice Holmes seventy-nine, Justice McKenna seventy-seven and Justice Day seventy-one. In all probability the first three will leave the court during the next presidential term. If their places were filled with Democrats the tribunal would stand six Democrats to three Republicans.

While it is often said that politics should not be considered in regard to the court it is nevertheless a fact that a great many people of influence think it does, and that interest in the coming election will be affected to some extent on account of the situation in the supreme court.

Sh-sh! Sh-sh! The Bogy Man!

Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee lectured the senate and the newspapers because the Danish treaty was printed. It was a breach of faith, dishonorable and against public interests, he said.

After an experience of more than twenty-five years I can assert that there never was a time when it would not have been far better to have had every treaty made public and the discussion of such treaties in the open than to have pursued the secretive policy.

Senator Borah combated the views of Senator Stone on the subject of publicity of the treaty, and that leads to the question, What is all this mysterious secrecy about, anyway? Let's have a look at the bogy man.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Senator Borah said it was a real estate deal. Well, it is a pretty big one, a $25,000,000 transaction, making those sandy islands of the Caribbean cost us about $295 per acre.

But the real question is, What momentous thing is under the surface, hinted at in Denmark and here, that makes the transfer so immediately necessary? And why is it necessary to hurry through the transaction and pay such a tremendous sum? It was Hamlet whom Shakespeare caused to remark, "There's something rotten in Denmark." Does that condition prevail now as well as in the days of the melancholy Dane?

Two Significant Utterances.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona told the senate he was opposed to any adjournment until there had been a vote on the immigration bill. Senator Mc-of Montana said he was fully in accord with Ashurst. The significance of these utterances is that both senators are candidates for re-election this fall, and they know the temper of their people on this question.

"Hammer and Tongs."

"We are going after them hammer and tongs!" shouted Minority Leader Mann on the night of the McKinley reception to Chairman Wilcox. "Them" meant the Democrats. Perhaps Mr.
Hughes took a tip from the words of the minority leader, and that accounts for the manner in which he has been pitching into the party in power during his campaign tour.

"It is evident that Hughes intends to keep us on the defensive," remarked Senator Lewis of Illinois. "That is one reason why I made a counter-attack. I have found that in trying law cases it is sometimes good tactics to attack the prosecutor when he attacks your case."

Chamberlain's Two Bills.

Chairman Chamberlain has had the management of two important military bills this year, one the army reorganization bill and the other the military appropriation bill, carrying much legislation for the army. If Chamberlain could have had his way both measures might have been vastly superior to the form in which they finally passed, but opponents of army legislation had strength, and legislation must be a compromise. Even as it is the army legislation is called a credit to the Oregon senator.

SECRETS OF COMFORT.

Though sometimes small evils,
like invisible insects, inflict pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

Sure Proof.

"Mr. Jones is an extremely obstinate man in his opinions."
"I don't find him so."
"Oh, but he is. I can never bring him over to my way of thinking."
—Baltimore American.

INDIAN VOTES IN QUESTION

Decision May Change Result in County Option Election.

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 19.—Have Indians on reservations a right to vote
at a local option or liquor election?

The answer will probably decide the election in Beltrami county.

The wets, according to unofficial returns, have won by seven votes, but the dries will contest and will ask the courts to pass on the Indian votes.

The Indians at Red Lake agency voted seventy-nine wet and thirteen dry.

stipation. Get rid of that tired, night. In the morning that stuffed,

dull feeling is gone and you feel

POLITICS EVEN IN SUPREME COURT

Impossible to Keep Partisanship Out of Tribunal.

MAY CHANGE COMPLEXION

If Wilson is Re-elected He Will Have Power to Appoint Successors to Republicans Who Have Reached Age Limit—The Effect of This on November Election.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 19.—[Special.]—It has often been asserted that there is or should be no politics in the supreme court. But men were partisans before they became members of the court and the partisanship of Mr. Hughes since he became the Republican candidate shows that a man does not lose his party feeling by becoming a justice of the highest court.

In this connection it is interesting to note that in all probability the political complexion of the court will be changed if Mr. Wilson is re-elected and that for the first time in fifty years a majority of the court will be Democrats.

At the present there are five Republicans and four Democrats on the court, the resignation of Justice Hughes giving Mr. Wilson an opportunity to add the fourth Democrat to the membership.

Possible Changes.

Before March 4, 1921, when the next presidential term will end, Chief Justice White will be seventy-five, Justice Holmes seventy-nine, Justice McKenna seventy-seven and Justice Day seventy-one. In all probability the first three will leave the court during the next presidential term. If their places were filled with Democrats the tribunal would stand six Democrats to three Republicans.

While it is often said that politics should not be considered in regard to the court it is nevertheless a fact that a great many people of influence think it does, and that interest in the coming election will be affected to some extent on account of the situation in the supreme court.

Sh-sh! Sh-sh! The Bogy Man!

Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee lectured the senate and the newspapers because the Danish treaty was printed. It was a breach of faith, dishonorable and against public interests, he said.

After an experience of more than twenty-five years I can assert that there never was a time when it would not have been far better to have had every treaty made public and the discussion of such treaties in the open than to have pursued the secretive policy.

Senator Borah combated the views of Senator Stone on the subject of publicity of the treaty, and that leads to the question, What is all this mysterious secrecy about, anyway? Let's have a look at the bogy man.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Senator Borah said it was a real estate deal. Well, it is a pretty big one, a $25,000,000 transaction, making those sandy islands of the Caribbean cost us about $295 per acre.

But the real question is, What momentous thing is under the surface, hinted at in Denmark and here, that makes the transfer so immediately necessary? And why is it necessary to hurry through the transaction and pay such a tremendous sum? It was Hamlet whom Shakespeare roused to remark, "There's something rotten in Denmark." Does that condition prevail now as well as in the days of the melancholy Dane?

Two Significant Utterances.
Senator Ashurst of Arizona told the senate he was opposed to any adjournment until there had been a vote on the immigration bill. Senator Myers of Montana said he was fully in accord with Ashurst. The significance of these utterances is that both senators are candidates for re-election this fall, and they know the temper of their people on this question.

"Hammer and Tongs."
"We are going after them hammer and tongs!" shouted Minority Leader Mann on the night of the McKinley reception to Chairman Wilcox. "Them" meant the Democrats. Perhaps Mr. Hughes took a tip from the words of the minority leader, and that accounts for the manner in which he has been pitching into the party in power during his campaign tour.

"It is evident that Hughes intends to keep us on the defensive," remarked Senator Lewis of Illinois. "That is one reason why I made a counter-attack. I have found that in trying law cases it is sometimes good tactics to attack the prosecutor when he attacks your case."

Chamberlain's Two Bills.

Chairman Chamberlain has had the management of two important military bills this year, one the army reorganization bill and the other the military appropriation bill, carrying much legislation for the army. If Chamberlain could have had his way both measures might have been vastly superior to the form in which they finally passed, but opponents of army legislation had strength, and legislation must be a compromise. Even as it is the army legislation is called a credit to the Oregon senator.

SECRETS OF COMFORT.

Though sometimes small evils, like invisible insects, inflict pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

Sure Proof.

"Mr. Jones is an extremely obstinate man in his opinions."
"I don't find him so."
"Oh, but he is. I can never bring him over to my way of thinking."—Baltimore American.

INDIAN VOTES IN QUESTION

Decision May Change Result in County Option Election.

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 19.—Have Indians on reservations a right to vote at a local option or liquor election?

The answer will probably decide the election in Beltrami county.

The wets, according to unofficial returns, have won by seven votes, but the drys will contest and will ask the courts to pass on the Indian votes.

The Indians at Red Lake agency voted seventy-nine wet and thirteen dry.

Woman's Building at the State Fair Has Been Entirely Re-arranged

HOME INDUSTRIES DEPARTMENT

Art Galleries Receive Notable Contributions of Contemporary Art

The educational program at the Minnesota state fair, Sept. 4 to 9, will present many new features. Several of the departments have been completely reorganized, and the others have been changed to a considerable degree.

Women who attend the state fair will find the Woman's building rearranged entirely. The interior has been remodeled and repainted. A series of artistic exhibit booths, with glass fronts, designed by Maurice L. Flagg, superintendent, has been built around the inside of the entire building. The big raised band stand has been removed to assist in minimizing congestion.

The culinary and needlework departments have been merged into one department, called the Home Industries department. The premium list of this department was completely revised this spring, many classifications which have been in force for many years being stricken out. Attached to each exhibit this year will be a score card with a scale of points, which visitors may read when examining the prize winners. At the end of the week a short course for exhibitors is to be held, in which the judges will give instruction on the proper method of exhibiting.

The art galleries, adjoining the Woman's building, have been enlarged and redecorated. They will be nearly fifty per cent larger than a year ago. A notable collection of contemporary art is to be shown by the Macbeth galleries, of New York. The Chicago Society of Arts is to contribute forty canvases. One gallery will be devoted to canvases of modified modern art. There will be a special exhibition by the Minnesota Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and the Minneapolis and St. Paul art schools. The exhibit of commercial art will be extraordinarily large.

Dudley Crafts Watson, director of the Milwaukee Society of Fine Arts, himself a distinguished landscape painter and critic, will paint a picture twice each day to show visitors how pictures are painted. He will explain color, light and shade, and the technique which enters into the process of designing and painting a landscape, talking as he works. He will give a series of lectures each day explaining the meritorious things about the paintings and other objects in the galleries.

At the rear of the Art galleries, a large and pretentious exhibit of building materials will be shown. The feature of this exhibit is to be a series of model houses, complete in every detail, lighted and landscaped, which the state fair has obtained in cooperation with the Minnesota State Art commission and the White Pine bureau. This exhibit cost $10,000 originally and has been brought from Cleveland, Ohio, where it was exhibited a short while ago. There will be a large exhibit of all kinds of building materials in the same building. Nothing of this kind has ever been shown at the state fair.

The machinery show promises to exceed anything of the kind in the history of the fair. The display of small tractors will be larger than a year ago, when a new record was established. A big plowing demonstration for either Thursday or Friday morning is planned on Machine

Of Nighties Sheer That Closely Cling

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for the United Press.)
Again of nighties now I sing,
Of nighties sheer that closely cling,
So fine they'll pass inside a ring,
And O, they cost like anything.

New York, Aug. 19.—If there should be a shortage in the Georgette crepe output goodness knows what would ever become of us. Not only are most all our day clothes made of this filmy fabric, but all of our night clothes as well. So we couldn't go out and we couldn't go to bed. The chances are we'd take the only course left to us and go daffy. However, no such dire calamity presages at the moment of going to press. The Georgette crepe industry flourishes; so likewise does the diaphanous nightgown fashioned of this far from opaque material.

The Georgette crepe nightie is truly a thing of beauty, but hardly a joy forever as it scarcely has the lasting qualities of a nainsook or even a crepe de chine gown.

Some of the most exquisite models are the most simple, relying on the perfection of the material for their sole charm. One Empire model of flesh tinted Georgette is sleeveless and is bordered around the neck and the armholes with a heading of fine footing. A wide band of fish satin ribbon run under the footing makes the high waistline.

A unique finish on another fish toned model is formed of tiny pale blue baby ribbon. One with this finish in pink, and another in mauve are also shown. All of the gowns come in white and ivory also.

Another charming finish is a tiny hemstitched banding of the Crepe Georgette itself, either in blue or mauve on either flesh gowns and pink, blue or mauve on the white.

Lavender, by the way, is rapidly superseding that erstwhile French favorite, pale blue, as a combination with flesh underwear and touches of mauve are found on nearly every smart new article of lingerie this season.

The pajama girl is not the rarity now that she used to be. She is no longer the pink pajama girl, however, although she still is the pink of perfection. Alluring indeed are the 1916 pajamas of maize, mauve, blue or rose broche narrowly banded in lavender, all save the mauve one which has a Nile green finish.

For the vacillating maid who cannot quite make up her mind between the enchanting nighties and the alluring pajamas comes a pajama night gown, if you please. It is of pink batiste, crepe de chine or Crepe Georgette and is cut in one with a nightie top and an ending of full pantaloons like Pierrot always wears with a cunning lace edged frill around the ankles. Bifurcated fashions also have spread to negligee, and a recent imported model has full Turkish trousers of crepe de chine, a crush taffeta girdle of contrasting shade, and a blouse and loose coat of Crepe Georgette. The blouse is finished around the neck with a wide fringed double ruche of the taffeta.

SECURES DIVORCE

Lillian B. Davidson Released from Bonds of Matrimony, Decree Issued This Week

Lillian B. Davidson has secured a decree of absolute divorce from Eugene R. Davidson. The complaint recited that they were married February 24, 1913 and that she was 21 and he 31 years old. There are no children.

She alleged cruel and inhuman treatment while living in Brainerd up to July 6 of this year, that he struck, bruised and beat her, pushed her around, and that she was sick several days. She claims he persisted in a systematic course of ill treatment and also would swear at her and use vile and opprobrious names. No defense was offered and on August 16 Judge W. S. McClenahan granted the decree.

A Bit Thick.

Parisians drink scarcely any water other than mineral water. The Seine water has a shocking reputation.

John Raphael, Paris correspondent for several London papers, said some years ago that one afternoon a pretty actress met her doctor at a dress rehearsal in a boulevard theater.

"Look here," she said; "I am quite sure that all this mineral water I drink, since you have forbidden wine, is dreadfully bad for me. I want your permission to drink filtered Seine water now."

DUCHES OF DEVONSHIRE

Fitzmaurice during the governor generalship of her father, the Marquis of Lansdowne. The duke, although head of one of the most historic houses of England—that of Cavendish, thus occupying a position in the very front rank of his sovereign's peers as owner of a dukedom dating from the seventeenth century—and a Knight of the Garter, is the most simple and unaffected of men.

Enormously rich, his wealth being derived from ancestral estates that extend over some 200,000 acres and from big mines in the counties of Lancaster and Derby, he is a very clever and sound business man and can boast that he has never had an idle moment in his life. He has been chairman until now of a great shipbuilding company and of a number of other big industrial and mining concerns, mostly connected more or less directly with his. He owns almost the whole of the prosperous and important seaside town of Eastbourne, which he and his duchess have done much to develop.

The Duke of Devonshire is perhaps the most intimate personal friend of King George, while the duchess is the mistress of the robes and dominant member of the household of Queen Mary, their close relations with one another dating back to their early girlhood.

Japanese Tea Room to be Added, Soft Drinks Bar to be Where Present Lobby is

Carpenters have begun the work of remodeling the Ideal hotel. On the main floor the lobby is to occupy the northeast corner of the building, fronting Front and Fifth street. Its floor space will measure 25 by 45 feet.

The old hose house near by is being removed and Fifth street will soon be opened up, making it a busy corner. To the rear of the lobby, separated by a glass partition and opening into same with a wide entrance, will be the lunch counter of the best type and design.

The dining room is having connecting doors added, communicating with a Japanese tea room of metropolitan design.

The soft drinks bar will occupy the space of the present lobby. A door will connect with the lobby.

The work of alteration will not interfere with the dining room where meals are served promptly. The Ideal Sunday luncheon and dinner has become a famous institution and is steadily gaining in patronage.

Several of the large exhibitors who have not attended any of the state fairs for several years are coming to the Minnesota state fair this fall.

The livestock show promises to be so large that the superintendents of the different departments are arranging for extra accommodations. It is probable that tents will have to be resorted to in sheltering the over-run of horses, cattle and sheep expected. The number of local exhibitors of cattle and horses exceeds that of any other year, due entirely to the greater interest which is being taken in purebred stock in the northwest. Entries have been received from the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and from states as far south as Mississippi. Last year the foot and mouth disease cut down the entry list the last moment, but there is no contagious disease this year to reduce the exhibition of livestock. Horses and cattle entries closed August 10. Sheep and swine entries close Thursday, August 24.

Chimera and His Band Gave an Evening of Great Enjoyment—The Program Sunday

On Friday afternoon and evening Chimera and his band delighted large audiences at the Chautauqua. They play well, the red section being especially pleasing. Nineteen belong to the organization.

This afternoon the Bohannons were heard in a sketch and will present "A Matrimonial Venture" this evening.

Dr. James L. Gordon, Canada's greatest preacher, spoke in the afternoon. He showed himself to be a live lecturer. In addition to the Bohannons, Ducrot will take part in the entertainment this evening.

On Sunday the Christine Giles company appears afternoon and evening. Hon. B. F. McDonald talks on "Moonshine," in the afternoon and uncovers a great many of the shams commonly practiced.

The Chautauqua has been successful this season and in the address made by the manager Thursday evening, sufficient encouragement has become evident to guarantee their coming next year.

"We must fight for our ideas and our ideals," said the speaker. "If you believe in the Chautauqua, in the good it does, in the high class lectures and entertainments given, if you wish the community to profit by this annual week of Chautauqua, encourage the movement, sign your name and get your friends to sign." And many have signed and are adding their names to the lists.

Of Nighties Sheer That Closely Cling

BY MARGARET MASON.
(Written for the United Press.)

Again of nighties now I sing,
Of nighties sheer that closely cling
So fine they'll pass inside a ring,
And O, they cost like anything.

New York, Aug. 19.—If there should be a shortage in the Georgette crepe output goodness knows what would ever become of us. Not only are most all our day clothes made of this filmy fabric, but all of our night clothes as well. So we couldn't go out and we couldn't go to bed. The chances are we'd take the only course left to us and go daffy. However, no such dire calamity presages at the moment of going to press. The Georgette crepe industry flourishes; so likewise does the diaphanous nightgown fashioned of this far from opaque material.

The Georgette crepe nightie is truly a thing of beauty, but hardly a joy forever as it scarcely has the lasting qualities of a nainsook or even a crepe de chine gown.

Some of the most exquisite models are the most simple, relying on the perfection of the material for their sole charm. One Empire model of flesh tinted Georgette is sleeveless and is bordered around the neck and the armholes with a heading of fine footling. A wide band of fish satin ribbon run under the footling makes the high waistline.

A unique finish on another fish toned model is formed of tiny pale blue baby ribbon. One with this finish in pink, and another in mauve are also shown. All of the gowns come in white and ivory also.

Another charming finish is a tiny hemstitched banding of the Crepe Georgette itself, either in blue or mauve on either flesh gowns and pink, blue or mauve on the white.

Lavender, by the way, is rapidly superseding that erstwhile Frenchy favorite, pale blue, as a combination with flesh underwear and touches of mauve are found on nearly every smart new article of lingerie this season.

The pajama girl is not the rarity now that she used to be. She is no longer the pink pajama girl, however, although she still is the pink of perfection. Alluring indeed are the 1916 pajamas of maize, mauve, blue or rose broche narrowly banded in lavender, all save the mauve one which has a nile green finish.

For the vacillating maid who cannot quite make up her mind between the enchanting nighties and the alluring pajamas comes a pajama night gown, if you please. It is of pink batiste, crepe de chine or Crepe Georgette and is cut in one with a nightie top and an ending of full pantaloons like Pierrot always wears with a cunning lace edged frill around the ankles. Bifurcated fashions also have spread to negligee, and a recent imported model has full Turkish trousers of crepe de chine, a crush taffeta girdle of contrasting shade, and a blouse and loose coat of Crepe Georgette. The blouse is finished around the neck with a wide fringed double ruche of the taffeta.

SECURES DIVORCE

Lillian B. Davidson Released from Bonds of Matrimony, Decree Issued This Week

Lillian B. Davidson has secured a decree of absolute divorce from Eugene R. Davidson. The complaint recited that they were married February 24, 1913 and that she was 21 and he 31 years old. There are no children.

She alleged cruel and inhuman treatment while living in Brainerd up to July 6 of this year, that he struck, bruised and beat her, pushed her around, and that she was sick several days. She claims he persisted in a systematic course of ill treatment and also would swear at her and use vile and opprobrious names. No defense was offered and on August 16 Judge W. S. McClenahan granted the decree.

A Bit Thicker

Parisians drink scarcely any water other than mineral water. The Seine water has a shocking reputation.

John Raphael, Paris correspondent for several London papers, said some years ago that one afternoon a pretty actress met her doctor at a dress rehearsal in a boulevard theater.

"Look here," she said; "I am quite sure that all this mineral water I drink, since you have forbidden wine, is dreadfully bad for me. I want your permission to drink filtered Seine water now."

His Three Questions

"I'll just bet you cigars for the crowd," said one of a party of prominent men to one of the number who was bragging of what he could do, "that you won't answer 'yes' to any three questions I ask you."

"Done," said the boasting one. "Well, were you ever in jail?"

"Yes."

"Were you ever electrocuted?"

"Yes."

Japanese Tea Room to be Added, Soft Drinks Bar to be Where Present Lobby is

Carpenters have begun the work of remodeling the Ideal hotel. On the main floor the lobby is to occupy the northeast corner of the building, fronting Front and Fifth street. Its floor space will measure 25 by 45 feet.

The old hose house near by is being removed and Fifth street will soon be opened up, making it a busy corner. To the rear of the lobby, separated by a glass partition and opening into same with a wide entrance, will be the lunch counter of the best type and design.

The dining room is having connecting doors added, communicating with a Japanese tea room of metropolitan design.

The soft drinks bar will occupy the space of the present lobby. A door will connect with the lobby.

The work of alteration will not interfere with the dining room where meals are served promptly. The Ideal Sunday luncheon and dinner has become a famous institution and is steadily gaining in patronage.

CANADA'S LADY.

The Duchess of Devonshire Back in Old Scenes.

A FRIEND OF QUEEN MARY.

The Daughter of a Former Governor General, Lord Lansdowne, Returns to Ottawa, This Time With Her Husband, the Duke of Devonshire.

The Duke and Duchess of Devonshire are likely to prove a great success in Canada when the duke takes the place of the Duke of Connaught as governor general. As for the duchess, she will be welcomed to Ottawa by hundreds of friends and acquaintances who recall the years of her girlhood, which she spent there as Lady Evelyn.

DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE

Fitzmaurice during the governor generalship of her father, the Marquis of Lansdowne. The duke, although head of one of the most historic houses of England—that of Cavendish, thus occupying a position in the very front rank of his sovereign's peers as owner of a dukedom dating from the seventeenth century—and a Knight of the Garter, is the most simple and unaffected of men.

Enormously rich, his wealth being derived from ancestral estates that extend over some 200,000 acres and from big mines in the counties of Lancaster and Derby, he is a very clever and sound business man and can boast that he has never had an idle moment in his life. He has been chairman until now of a great shipbuilding company and of a number of other big industrial and mining concerns, mostly connected more or less directly with his. He owns almost the whole of the prosperous and important seaside town of Eastbourne, which he and his duchess have done much to develop.

The Duke of Devonshire is perhaps the most intimate personal friend of King George, while the duchess is the mistress of the robes and dominant member of the household of Queen Mary, their close relations with one another dating back to their early girlhood.

As Others See Us.

The last but by no means the least important thing to attend to in dressing is to see that everything is neatly arranged in the back. This is not so difficult as is generally supposed. A long mirror is almost a necessity, and many startling views would not be disclosed if a cheval glass were included in the toilet set. The hanging of a skirt, the placing of fancy pins, the finest detail of the arrangement of the hair, the adjusting of collar and waist from the back are all such little things, but can ruin the effect of the whole costume if not properly arranged.

LOOKING OVER
LAKE FLOWAGE

Harold Knutson Gathers Information on High Water Stage at Leech Lake.

"It isn't everyone who has the happy faculty of being able to combine business with pleasure," says the Walker Pilot in last week's issue, "but Harold Knutson, the Republican nominee for congress from this district, can do it without letting one interfere with the other."

While attending the annual summer outing of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, of which he is a member, he took occasion to spend a day with Editor Dare at Federal Dam,

at which point is located the dam which has so much to do with the damage to shore line at Leech Lake, as well as to valuable hay meadows for many miles back from the lake.

Accompanied by a representative delegation of Federal Dam boosters Mr. Knutson made a trip over a portion of the affected territory and he was shown the ravages wrought by the policy now being maintained by the federal government. At one point the high stage of water had washed away forty acres of rich tillable land and undermined the buildings, which had toppled into the lake where they lay like derelict vessels. At another place portions of an old Indian burial ground had been washed away, exposing bones and skulls of departed Indians who had since journeyed to the "happy hunting grounds."

Along the shore and for miles back sugar maples, elms, oaks and pines stood dead or dying as a result of the high stage of water maintained by the government dams, creating an impression of desolation not pleasing to behold.

Before leaving Mr. Knutson interviewed a number of residents in the territory visited and he signified his intention of making the artificial flooding of agricultural lands in Northern Minnesota one of the first things to receive his attention in case of his election to congress, and as there is not any doubt on that score the settlers residing in the reservoir territory may look for relief at no distant date.

DEVELOPMENTS OF
WEEK ON RANGE

W. A. Barrows, Jr., of This City, Heads the Thomas Iron Co., of Easton, Pennsylvania

H. J. KRUSE IN ZINC FIELDS

General Manager Now of Three Mines and Two Mills in Heart of the Rich District

W. A. Barrows, Jr., a well known Brainerd mining man, has just received the appointment as president of the Thomas Iron Co. Mr. Barrows leaves in a few days for Easton, Pennsylvania, where the executive offices of the company are located. The company operates blast furnaces at Alburtils, Hokendaqua and Hellertown, Pa., owns and operates a number of miles of railroad, and also carries on a considerable mining operation. Mr. Barrows anticipates taking up his residence in the east, but will continue to reside at Gull lake near Brainerd in the summer season.

H. J. Kruse, formerly with the Rogers-Brown Ore Co., who assisted to open up their first property on the Cuyuna iron range, the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna, is now deeply interested in the zinc fields at Joplin, Mo., where he is general manager of three mines and two mills. He retains his residence on Serpent lake near Crosby.

All Cuyuna range mines, pit and underground, are working good and getting most of their men back. Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and deputies are on the range continuously, doing everything possible to protect every man who wants to work.

Stockholders of the Cuyuna-Duluth Iron Co. will meet at the company's office in the Lonadale building Monday, August 21, to elect directors.

In driving a drift to locate a suitable place for the new shaft at the Cuyuna-Mille Laes mine, says W. H. Locker, president of the company, a new lense of high grade ore was encountered. About ninety days ago an arrangement was made with the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Co. to drill seven union holes on the company's east line to test the ground not previously drilled. The drill, is at present working in the fourth hole and it is claimed each hole has encountered high grade ore and each hole is bottomed in good ore. The new tonnage being proven up by the union holes on the southeast corner of the property and lense developed in the drift for the shaft will very materially increase the known tonnage on its property. There is a big demand for the manganiferous ore of the Cuyuna-Mille Laes mine.

HITLESS BASEBALL.

Remarkable Record That Was Made by Cy Young in 1904.

The proud record for pitching consecutive innings of hitless baseball is held by no less a personage than the Hon. Denton Tecumseh Young of blessed baseball memory. Mr. Young, better known as "Cy," is the holder of several records in unusual feats in the pitching line.

It was back in April, 1904, that Young proceeded to shatter all figures in this line, and before he got through he had created a new record in hurling hitless ball and one which stands to day clean cut and without a spot or blemish and without a doubt the greatest piece of pitching the game ever witnessed.

On April 30 against the Washington team Young took Winter's place in the third inning, no one out, and pitched out the game, retiring the next twenty-one batsmen in order. Young's next game took place May 5 against the Athletics. Cy pitched the best game of his long and honorable career that day and retired twenty-seven of those famous swatsmen of Connie Mack in a row. In a game against Detroit on May 11 Denton T. pitched his famous fifteen inning 1 to 0 game against the Tigers, and in the first seven innings Young set them down without a base hit.

This would give Cy twenty-three innings of hitless ball, or, in other words, as far as the records show, sixty-eight batsmen stepped to the plate and were retired in succession. In that same period the big Obion pitched forty-eight consecutive innings where in his opponents failed to get a run across the plate. After his great no hit-no run game against the Athletics he pitched fifteen innings of runless ball, as mentioned, against the Tigers with Ed Killian opposing him. It was a battle royal, and the clever Killian met defeat by a score of 1 to 0.—New York Sun.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor:—

In view of certain news items recently published in the Dispatch and the recent winding up of the Security National Loan Co. which represented the National Mercantile Co. of Vancouver, B. C., which company and its methods I attacked more or less vigorously two years ago, it seems proper to say that its officers and agents, fourteen in number, operating in Oregon and Washington, were indicted by the federal grand jury at Seattle in December, 1914. The U. S. district attorney there told me that they were indicted on two counts, viz: for operating a lottery and for organizing a conspiracy to defraud. He said that when closed up by the Canadian postal authorities in December, 1914, for operating a lottery, etc., they were receiving mail by the ton and had 300 agencies in the United States.

As you well know the sole object of my attack on all concerned was to protect the good name of Brainerd from harboring such a concern also to save the hard earned dollars of our wage earners and would-be-home buyers, who could ill afford to lose their money.

I was the subject of considerable abuse by the company and the local representative as your readers will recall. I hand you a letter from the commissioner of corporations of Oregon, also a very complimentary letter from the distinguished president of the great mercantile company which clearly shows his appreciation of my humble efforts to assist him along the road to his inevitable doom. From his interesting misadventure I am not left in doubt as to the kind of a mutt I am.

P. B. NETTLETON.

P. S.—The U. S. district attorney at Seattle told me to be on the watch for a new company to be organized on a similar plan by the same interests for the same purpose at St. Paul. I now have in my office the literature of such a company on the same lines but under a different name. They now have offices in St. Paul and Minneapolis and a branch in Duluth. If we do not have a branch in Brainerd it will be because of the publicity given in your columns against such deceptive concerns. This operates under the guise of furnishing homes too.—P. B. N.

Mr. B. P. Nettleton, Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Sir:—

This acknowledges yours of October 19, in reference to National Mercantile Company, Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. I have read your letter with a good deal of interest, but not with any surprise. In all probability you will receive many abusive letters from Mr. Stillings, before the federal government gets him and he quits sending his stuff through the mails.

Before I went into office, the secretary of state had refused to allow the National Mercantile company to enter the state, unless it did so as a building and loan or savings and loan company; this upon the advice of the attorney general. After I came into office, the fact that the company was transacting business in the state was called to my attention, and I notified its agent that it could not lawfully transact business without entering the state as required of foreign corporations. This Mr. Stillings refused to do and at once inaugurated a course in abusive letter writing. I finally had him and his agents at Eugene, Oregon, arrested for operating contrary to law, and Mr. Stillings spent a week in jail at Eugene, being unable to secure $2,000 bail. His bail was reduced to $1,000 and he was released. The company then attacked the constitutionality of the Blue Sky law in the federal court. The suit was dismissed and a plea in abatement filed by this department, the reason being that the company had not complied with the Oregon law in any manner and could not therefore sue, and the court in passing on the suit stated that it was not at all sure that the company was not engaged in a fraudulent business, but said it was not necessary to go into that matter in order to pass upon the plea. The case was dismissed, and has been appealed to the United States supreme court of appeals. I at once secured an injunction in the circuit court of Marion county, restraining the company from operating in the state of Oregon, because it had not complied with the law, in reference to foreign companies, and because it was engaged in a fraudulent business. The company has failed to meet this charge, but is now moving for a dismissal of the injunction on the ground that it attempted to comply with the law, and I refused to file its papers.

Mr. Stillings organized a company in Missouri. It was practically the same as the Canada company, and was driven from the state by the attorney general and supervisor of building and loan companies. He then went to Massachusetts, where he organized a Preferred Mercantile company, and as a result of his operations there spent two years in the Suffolk county jail in Boston, one year for contempt of court, and the second on a federal charge for unlawful use of the mails. He next organized his Canada company which was almost identical with the Massachusetts company, and it has been changed from a diamond tonline contract game to a money loaning game, on the same plan practically, the only difference in the contract being that Mr. Stillings gets $10.00 now, where he got $1.00 before.

The company is under investigation by the federal government, and I am confident that it will in due

"The Censor is not
The Damm Fool you
Take Him to Be"BY HAL O'FLAHERTY,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Aug. 1 (By Mail).—"The censor is not the damn fool you take him to be." The above line was penned by a British censor upon a letter from an officer at the front to his wife, in which an ingenious code was discovered. It meant to disclose to the anxious wife just where her husband was fighting, but it was spoiled by the censor and an order was issued by the war office prohibiting such practices.

Before the officer who wrote the code letter, left for the front, he secured two maps showing the entire British fighting line. The maps were identical. One he left with his wife and the other he took with him.

Thereafter, each time he wrote a letter, he placed the stationery on his map, stuck a pin through it directly over Paris, another directly over Brussels, and a third at the point where he was stationed. Upon receiving the letter, his wife would superimpose it on her map, adjusting the extreme pinholes over Paris and Brussels, and her husband's whereabouts would be indicated by the middle hole.

This is but one of a score of codes and secret signals discovered by the censors recently. England does not censure the relatives of men at the front for wanting to know the locality in which they are fighting and perhaps dying, but such disclosures became a menace. No one knows how extensive Germany's espionage system may be, and England is taking no chances.

Another code system used by a certain officer was more elaborate than the one pointed out by the censor, with his "damn fool" notation. It was arranged by the officer with his wife, just before he sailed for France, and consisted of two charts of the battle line, one of which he retained while the wife kept the other. Each map was laid out in blocks an inch square; each square could be identified by combination of letters indicating each line of squares from left to right. Down the left hand side was another row of letters. In writing home, the officer would say: "Give my regards to L. A. Smith." Being a fictitious name, the wife would know it as a key to her secret code. Putting her finger on the "A" line of the square on her chart, she would follow along under the "L" squares, in which was her husband's position at the front.

It is improbable that any information contained in these code letters has ever reached the Germans, but there is a possibility of such a mischance and England is losing no opportunity to defeat a spy system that has made Englishmen gasp.

CHARTING THE GREAT LAKES.

Uncle Sam Has a Steady Job in These Perilous Waters.

Summer after summer the fleet of the lake survey sails the broad expanse of the five lakes and the score of bays and inlets searching for danger spots that may claim their heavy toll of human life and vessel tonnage.

Since 1841 the United States government has been silently carrying on this work, a herculean fight against the jagged reef and the unseen shoal that menace navigation. Sounding lines have been plunged into black depths of 95,000 square miles of water, and still today there are areas that have not been charted in which passing barks may founder.

Probably no frequented waterways in the world are so hazardous as the great lakes. At no time is a steamer on them more than a comparative few hours from shore and periodically fierce storms arise, fully as violent as those experienced on the ocean, which play with the steel ships, battering them helplessly about, threatening to engulf or sweep them ashore. Over $5,000,000 has been spent by the government since 1841 for the prosecution of the work of charting the lakes. Locked in heavy timbered boxes, protected from fire in immense vaults in the old postoffice building, Detroit, are over 1,300 field charts, dating back to 1818, when a survey of Lake Erie was made by officers of the British navy. With few exceptions the maps are the result of the scientific researches of United States officers and surveyors.—New York Sun.

Railways in Shakespeare's Time.

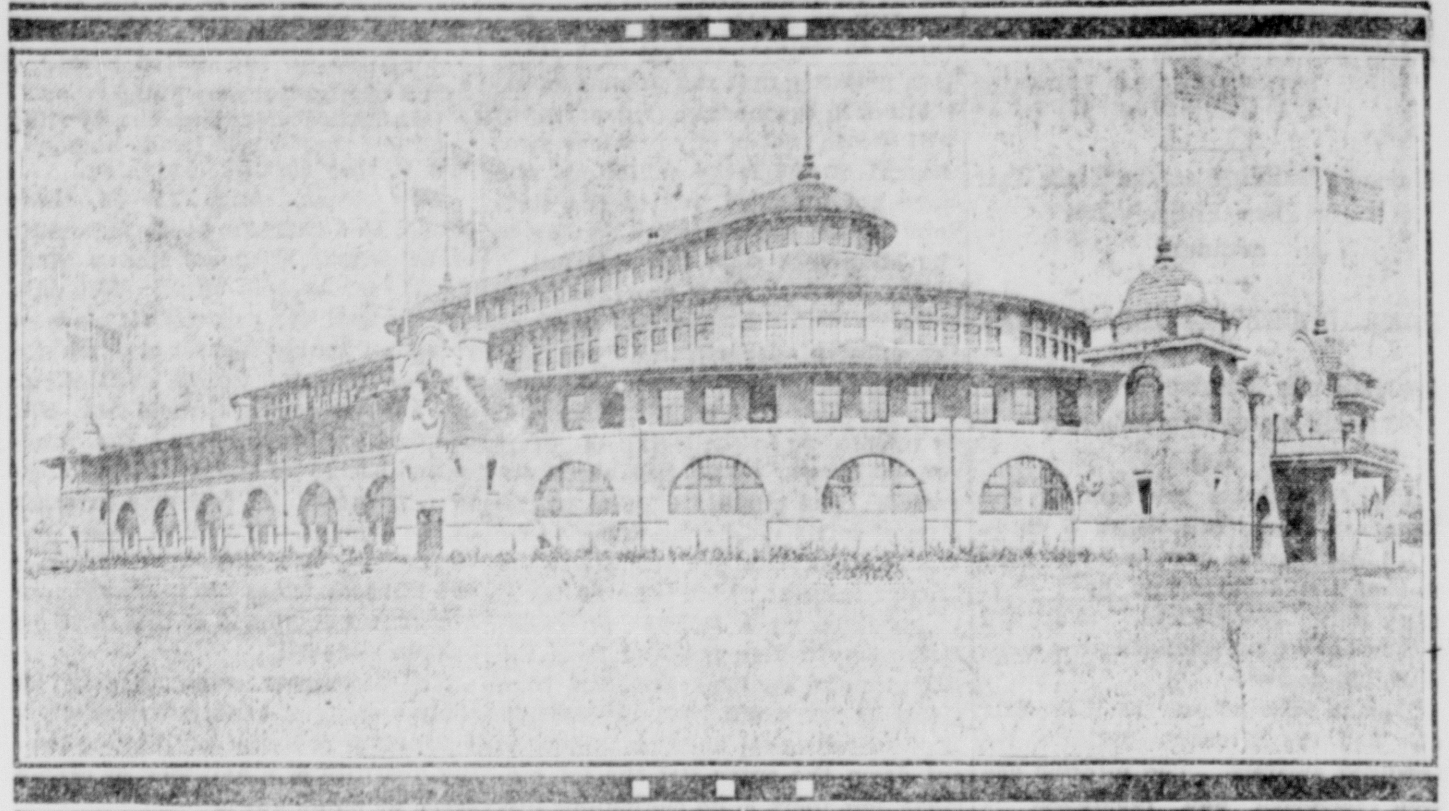

An American lady at Stratford on Avon showed even more than the usual American enthusiasm and fervor. She had not recovered when she reached the railway station, for she remarked to a friend as they walked on the platform, "To think that it was from this very platform the immortal bard would depart whenever he journeyed to town."

time he denied the use of the mails in the United States.

Trusting this will be of some benefit to you, I am,

Very sincerely,

WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION ALMOST READY!

THE GREATEST SHORT COURSE

Ever held in the History of Mankind is almost ready to open. Gigantic in scale, pretentious in the variety of its features, it will surpass anything of the kind planned anywhere in the world since the Beginning of Time.

THE MINNESOTA STATE FAIR,

Sept. 4 to 9, is to present hundreds of NOVEL EDUCATIONAL FEATURES. An earnest attempt has been made by every department of the mammoth Exposition to introduce a series of New Attractions never seen before. The 1916 Minnesota State Fair is to be a NEW FAIR FROM TOP TO BOTTOM, reorganized, reshaped, replanned to keep it abreast of the times. New things at every turn will confront the visitor.

THE WOMAN'S BUILDING will prove a revelation. The interior has been completely remodeled and repainted. Exhibits of cooking, sewing, and other handwork are to be presented in a new way. A Woman's and Misses' Style Show, presenting hundreds of beautiful gowns for different purposes, will be held each day, with University of Minnesota girls as models. After the judging of exhibits in the Woman's Building is finished, a short course will be conducted by the judges to teach women how to prepare their exhibits in an effective way.

A BUILDING MATERIALS EX-

HIBIT, costing $10,000, and one of the greatest features ever staged by a State Fair, is a new attraction. An entire town of model homes will be shown, complete in every detail, even to the landscaping. The Minnesota Art Commission and the White Pine Bureau are co-operating with the State Fair in making this exhibit a success. It is to occupy an entire building adjoining the Art Galleries.

HOW IS A PICTURE PAINTED?

Visit the Minnesota State Fair and gain some elementary knowledge about painting. Dudley Crafts Watson, Director of the Milwaukee Society of Fine Arts, a distinguished painter, will paint a picture twice each day. He will talk as he works. He will also explain the wonderful paintings which are to be exhibited from New York, Chicago, and other art centers of the world, and which are valued at $500,000.00.

THE CONTEST WORK OF THOU-

SANDS OF CHILDREN from every corner of the State of Minnesota will be shown in a new building, adjoining the big Main Building. Rural, consolidated, county, and city school displays of every nature will be exhibited. pig club contest, a big boys' camp, and a girls' camp, will be enlarged features.

HOW LONG WOULD IT TAKE TO

COUNT $1,100,000.00, dollar by dollar? The gigantic livestock show will present pure-bred animals from every corner of the world valued at that sum. Enlarged in every department, the stock show at the Minnesota State Fair will set a record which it will be difficult for any other State Fair to meet. The flower of the herds, stables, and flocks of the leading American breeders will be there.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN

AUTOS? One of the largest auto shows of the year will be at the Minnesota State Fair. The entire bottom floor of the great Varied Industries Building will be used in displaying the 1917 models of all the leading makes. Under the stress of competition prices on autos are being cut to the bone, and you can make up-to-date comparisons which may save you $100 in 100 seconds. Sixty tractors will demonstrate at the coming Fair. Hundreds of new inventions and labor-saving devices will be shown in the Machinery Show, which is to cover nearly 3,000,000 square feet.

MODEL FARM HOUSES are all the rage nowadays. Farming has advanced so much in the last few years that well-built and well-furnished farm homes are in fashion. For this reason the model farm house at the Minnesota State Fair will prove extraordinarily interesting. This house was built from plans which were given first prize in the Minnesota State Art Commission competition several years ago. It will be completely furnished under the supervision of the Minnesota Agricultural College. Pamphlets containing plans and cost of construction will be distributed.

ANGRY BEES CAN BE TAMED. If

you do not believe it attend the Minnesota State Fair and see a noted bee specialist turn the trick. Placed in a cage with a swarm of mad bees he will handle them like molasses taffy. Honey is to be extracted free at the Minnesota State Fair this year. A gigantic extractor is to be set up in the Bee and Honey Building, and honey brought to the Fair will be extracted without charge any day of the week.

THE HORTICULTURAL BUILD-

ING has been made into a new structure. It will look like a veritable Fairyland, with its beautiful flowers and wonderful display of fruit. The Agricultural Building will present a model mill, a wool exhibit, and many other new things. Streets have been widened, the immense Fair Grounds has been turned into a Beautiful Park, and every arrangement has been made for the care of the 350,000 visitors expected. LOOKING OVER LAKE FLOWAGE

Harold Knutson Gathers Information on High Water Stage at Leech Lake.

"It isn't everyone who has the happy faculty of being able to combine business with pleasure," says the Walker Pilot in last week's issue, "but Harold Knutson, the Republican nominee for congress from this district, can do it without letting one interfere with the other."

While attending the annual summer outing of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, of which he is a member, he took occasion to spend a day with Editor Dare at Federal Dam,

at which point is located the dam which has so much to do with the damage to shore line at Leech Lake, as well as to valuable hay meadows for many miles back from the lake.

Accompanied by a representative delegation of Federal Dam boosters Mr. Knutson made a trip over a portion of the affected territory and he was shown the ravages wrought by the policy now being maintained by the federal government. At one point the high stage of water had washed away forty acres of rich tillable land and undermined the buildings, which had toppled into the lake where they lay like derelict vessels. At another place portions of an old Indian burial ground had been washed away, exposing bones and skulls of departed Indians who had since journeyed to the "happy hunting grounds."

Along the shore and for miles back sugar maples, elms, oaks and pines stood dead or dying as a result of the high stage of water maintained by the government dams, creating an impression of desolation not pleasing to behold.

Before leaving Mr. Knutson interviewed a number of residents in the territory visited and he signified his intention of making the artificial flooding of agricultural lands in Northern Minnesota one of the first things to receive his attention in case of his election to congress, and as there is not any doubt on that score the settlers residing in the reservoir territory may look for relief at no distant date.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

W. A. Barrows, Jr., of This City, Heads the Thomas Iron Co., of Easton, Pennsylvania

H. J. KRUSE IN ZINC FIELDS

General Manager Now of Three Mines and Two Mills in Heart of the Rich District

W. A. Barrows, Jr., a well known Brainerd mining man, has just received the appointment as president of the Thomas Iron Co. Mr. Barrows leaves in a few days for Easton, Pennsylvania, where the executive offices of the company are located. The company operates blast furnaces at Alburis, Hokendauqua and Hellertown, Pa., owns and operates a number of miles of railroad, and also carries on a considerable mining operation. Mr. Barrows anticipates taking up his residence in the east, but will continue to reside at Gull lake near Brainerd in the summer season.

H. J. Kruse, formerly with the Rogers-Brown Ore Co., who assisted to open up their first property on the Cuyuna iron range, the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna, is now deeply interested in the zinc fields at Joplin, Mo., where he is general manager of three mines and two mills. He retains his residence on Serpent lake near Crosby.

All Cuyuna range mines, pit and underground, are working good and getting most of their men back. Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and deputies are on the range continuously, doing everything possible to protect every man who wants to work.

Stockholders of the Cuyuna-Duluth Iron Co. will meet at the company's office in the Lonadale building Monday, August 21, to elect directors.

In driving a drift to locate a suitable place for the new shaft at the Cuyuna-Mille Laes mine, says W. H. Locker, president of the company, a new lense of high grade ore was encountered. About ninety days ago an arrangement was made with the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Co. to drill seven union holes on the company's east line to test the ground not previously drilled. The drill, is at present working in the fourth hole and it is claimed each hole has encountered high grade ore and each hole is bottomed in good ore. The new tonnage being proven up by the union holes on the southeast corner of the property and lense developed in the drift for the shaft will very materially increase the known tonnage on its property. There is a big demand for the manganese ore of the Cuyuna-Mille Laes mine.

HITLESS BASEBALL.

Remarkable Record That Was Made by Cy Young in 1904.

The proud record for pitching consecutive hitless innings of baseball is held by no less a personage than the Hon. Denton Tecumseh Young of blessed baseball memory. Mr. Young, better known as "Cy," is the holder of several records in unusual feats in the pitching line.

It was back in April, 1904, that Young proceeded to shatter all figures in this line, and before he got through he had created a new record in hurling hitless ball and one which stands today clean cut and without a spot or blemish and without a doubt the greatest piece of pitching the game ever witnessed.

On April 30 against the Washington team Young took Winter's place in the third inning, no one out, and pitched out the game, retiring the next twenty-one batsmen in order. Young's next game took place May 5 against the Athletics. Cy pitched the best game of his long and honorable career that day and retired twenty-seven of those famous swatmen of Connie Mack in a row. In a game against Detroit on May 11 Denton T. pitched his famous fifteen inning 1 to 0 game against the Tigers, and in the first seven innings Young set them down without a base hit.

This would give Cy twenty-three innings of hitless ball, or, in other words, as far as the records show, sixty-eight batsmen stepped to the plate and were retired in succession. In that same period the big Obison pitched forty-eight consecutive innings where in his opponents failed to get a run across the plate. After his great no hit no run game against the Athletics he pitched fifteen innings of runless ball, as mentioned, against the Tigers with Ed Killian opposing him. It was a battle royal, and the clever Killian met defeat by a score of 1 to 0.—New York Sun.

To the Editor:—

In view of certain news items recently published in the Dispatch and the recent winding up of the Security National Loan Co. which represented the National Mercantile Co. of Vancouver, B. C., which company and its methods I attacked more or less vigorously two years ago, it seems proper to say that its officers and agents, fourteen in number, operating in Oregon and Washington, were indicted by the federal grand jury at Seattle in December, 1914. The U. S. district attorney there told me that they were indicted on two counts, viz: for operating a lottery and for organizing a conspiracy to defraud. He said that when closed up by the Canadian postal authorities in December, 1914, for operating a lottery, etc., they were receiving mail by the ton and had 300 agencies in the United States.

As you well know the sole object of my attack on all concerned was to protect the good name of Brainerd from harboring such a concern also to save the hard earned dollars of our wage earners and would-be-home buyers, who could ill afford to lose their money.

I was the subject of considerable abuse by the company and the local representative as your readers will recall. I hand you a letter from the commissioner of corporations of Oregon, also a very complimentary letter from the distinguished president of the great mercantile company which clearly shows his appreciation of my humble efforts to assist him along the road to his inevitable doom. From his interesting missive I am not left in doubt as to the kind of a mutt I am.

P. B. NETTLETON.

P. B.—The U. S. district attorney at Seattle told me to be on the watch for a new company to be organized on a similar plan by the same interests for the same purpose at St. Paul. I now have in my office the literature of such a company on the same lines but under a different name. They now have offices in St. Paul and Minneapolis and a branch in Duluth. If we do not have a branch in Brainerd it will be because of the publicity given in your columns against such deceptive concerns. This operates under the guise of furnishing homes too.—P. B. N.

Mr. B. P. Nettleton,
Brainerd, Minn.

Dear Sir:—

This acknowledges yours of October 19, in reference to National Mercantile Company, Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. I have read your letter with a good deal of interest, but not with any surprise. In all probability you will receive many abusive letters from Mr. Stillings, before the federal government gets him and he quits sending his stuff through the mails.

The history of this company, so far as this department is concerned, is briefly, as follows:

Before I went into office, the secretary of state had refused to allow the National Mercantile company to enter the state, unless it did so as a building and loan or savings and loan company; this upon the advice of the attorney general. After I came into office, the fact that the company was transacting business in the state was called to my attention, and I notified its agent that it could not lawfully transact business without entering the state as required of foreign corporations. This Mr. Stillings refused to do and at once inaugurated a course in abusive letter writing. I finally had him and his agents at Eugene, Oregon, arrested for operating contrary to law, and Mr. Stillings spent a week in jail at Eugene, being unable to secure $2,000 bail. His bail was reduced to $1,000 and he was released. The company then attacked the constitutionality of the Blue Sky law in the federal court. The suit was dismissed and a plea in abatement filed by this department, the reason being that the company had not complied with the Oregon law in any manner and could not therefore sue, and the court in passing on the suit stated that it was not at all sure that the company was not engaged in a fraudulent business, but said it was not necessary to go into that matter in order to pass upon the plea. The case was dismissed, and has been appealed to the United States supreme court of appeals. I at once secured an injunction in the circuit court of Marion county, restraining the company from operating in the state of Oregon, because it had not complied with the law, in reference to foreign companies, and because it was engaged in a fraudulent business. The company has failed to meet this charge, but is now moving for a dismissal of the injunction on the ground that it attempted to comply with the law, and I refused to file its papers.

Mr. Stillings organized a company in Missouri. It was practically the same as the Canada company, and was driven from the state by the attorney general and supervisor of building and loan companies. He then went to Massachusetts, where he organized a Preferred Mercantile company, and as a result of his operations there spent two years in the Suffolk county jail in Boston, one year for contempt of court, and the second on a federal charge for unlawful use of the mails. He next organized his Canada company which was almost identical with the Massachusetts company, and it has been changed from a diamond tonline contract game to a money loaning game, on the same plan practically, the only difference in the contract being that Mr. Stillings gets $10.00 now, where he got $1.00 before.

The company is under investigation by the federal government, and I am confident that it will in due

"The Censor is not The Damm Fool you Take Him to Be"

BY HAL O'FLAHERTY,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Aug. 1 (By Mail).—"The censor is not the damn fool you take him to be." The above line was penned by a British censor upon a letter from an officer at the front to his wife, in which an ingenious code was discovered. It meant to disclose to the anxious wife just where her husband was fighting, but it was spoiled by the censor and an order was issued by the war office prohibiting such practices.

Before the officer who wrote the code letter, left for the front, he secured two maps showing the entire British fighting line. The maps were identical. One he left with his wife and the other he took with him.

Thereafter, each time he wrote a letter, he placed the stationery on his map, stuck a pin through it directly over Paris, another directly over Brussels, and a third at the point where he was stationed. Upon receiving the letter, his wife would superimpose it on her map, adjusting the extreme pinholes over Paris and Brussels, and her husband's whereabouts would be indicated by the middle hole.

This is but one of a score of codes and secret signals discovered by the censors recently. England does not censure the relatives of men at the front for wanting to know the locality in which they are fighting and perhaps dying, but such disclosures became a menace. No one knows how extensive Germany's espionage system may be, and England is taking no chances.

Another code system used by a certain officer was more elaborate than the one pointed out by the censor, with his "damn fool" notation. It was arranged by the officer with his wife, just before he sailed for France, and consisted of two charts of the battle line, one of which he retained while the wife kept the other. Each map was laid out in blocks an inch square; each square could be identified by combination of letters indicating each line of squares from left to right. Down the left hand side was another row of letters. In writing home, the officer would say: "Give my regards to L. A. Smith." Being a fictitious name, the wife would know it as a key to her secret code. Putting her finger on the "A" line of the square on her chart, she would follow along under the "L" squares, in which was her husband's position at the front.

It is improbable that any information contained in these code letters has ever reached the Germans, but there is a possibility of such a mischance and England is losing no opportunity to defeat a spy system that has made Englishmen gasp.

CHARTING THE GREAT LAKES.

Uncle Sam Has a Steady Job in These Perilous Waters.

Summer after summer the fleet of the lake survey sails the broad expanse of the five lakes and the score of bays and inlets searching for danger spots that may claim their heavy toll of human life and vessel tonnage.

Since 1841 the United States government has been silently carrying on this work, a herculean fight against the jagged reef and the unseen shoal that menace navigation. Sounding lines have been plunged into black depths of 95,000 square miles of water, and still today there are areas that have not been charted in which passing barks may founder.

Probably no frequented waterways in the world are so hazardous as the great lakes. At no time is a steamer on them more than a comparative few hours from shore and periodically fierce storms arise, fully as violent as those experienced on the ocean, which play with the steel ships, battering them helplessly about, threatening to engulf or sweep them ashore.

Over $5,000,000 has been spent by the government since 1841 for the prosecution of the work of charting the lakes. Locked in heavy timbered boxes, protected from fire in immense vaults in the old postoffice building, Detroit, are over 1,200 field charts, dating back to 1818, when a survey of Lake Erie was made by officers of the British navy. With few exceptions the maps are the result of the scientific researches of United States officers and surveyors.—New York Sun.

WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION ALMOST READY!

THE GREATEST SHORT COURSE ever held in the History of Mankind is almost ready to open. Gigantic in scale, pretentious in the variety of its features, it will surpass anything of the kind planned anywhere in the world since the Beginning of Time.

THE MINNESOTA STATE FAIR, Sept. 4 to 9, is to present hundreds of NOVEL EDUCATIONAL FEATURES. An earnest attempt has been made by every department of the mammoth Exposition to introduce a series of New Attractions never seen before. The 1916 Minnesota State Fair is to be a NEW FAIR FROM TOP TO BOTTOM, reorganized, reshaped, re-planned to keep it abreast of the times. New things at every turn will confront the visitor.

THE WOMAN'S BUILDING will prove a revelation. The interior has been completely remodeled and repainted. Exhibits of cooking, sewing, and other handwork are to be presented in a new way. A Woman's and Misses' Style Show, presenting hundreds of beautiful gowns for different purposes, will be held each day, with University of Minnesota girls as models. After the judging of exhibits in the Woman's Building is finished, a short course will be conducted by the judges to teach women how to prepare their exhibits in an effective way.

A BUILDING MATERIALS EXHIBIT, costing $10,000, and one of the greatest features ever staged by a State Fair, is a new attraction. An entire town of model homes will be shown, complete in every detail, even to the landscaping. The Minnesota Art Commission and the White Pine Bureau are co-operating with the State Fair in making this exhibit a success. It is to occupy an entire building adjoining the Art Galleries.

HOW IS A PICTURE PAINTED? Visit the Minnesota State Fair and gain some elementary knowledge about painting. Dudley Crafts Watson, Director of the Milwaukee Society of Fine Arts, a distinguished painter, will paint a picture twice each day. He will talk as he works. He will also explain the wonderful paintings which are to be exhibited from New York, Chicago, and other art centers of the world, and which are valued at $500,000.00.

THE CONTEST WORK OF THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN from every corner of the State of Minnesota will be shown in a new building, adjoining the big Main Building. Rural, consolidated, county, and city school displays of every nature will be exhibited. A girls' champion bread-making and canning contest, a boys' and girls' championship spelling contest, a boys' championship corn and pig club contest, a big boys' camp, and a girls' camp, will be enlarged features.

HOW LONG WOULD IT TAKE TO COUNT $1,100,000.00, dollar by dollar? The gigantic livestock show will present pure-bred animals from every corner of the world valued at that sum. Enlarged in every department, the stock show at the Minnesota State Fair will set a record which it will be difficult for any other State Fair to meet. The flower of the herds, stables, and flocks of the leading American breeders will be there.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN AUTOS? One of the largest auto shows of the year will be at the Minnesota State Fair. The entire bottom floor of the great Varied Industries Building will be used in displaying the 1917 models of all the leading makes. Under the stress of competition prices on autos are being cut to the bone, and you can make up-to-date comparisons which may save you $100 in 100 seconds. Sixty tractors will demonstrate at the coming Fair. Hundreds of new inventions and labor-saving devices will be shown in the Machinery Show, which is to cover nearly 3,000,000 square feet.

MODEL FARM HOUSES are all the rage nowadays. Farming has advanced so much in the last few years that well-built and well-furnished farm homes are in fashion. For this reason the model farm house at the Minnesota State Fair will prove extraordinarily interesting. This house was built from plans which were given first prize in the Minnesota State Art Commission competition several years ago. It will be completely furnished under the supervision of the Minnesota Agricultural College. Pamphlets containing plans and cost of construction will be distributed.

ANGRY BEES CAN BE TAMED. If you do not believe it attend the Minnesota State Fair and see a noted bee specialist turn the trick. Placed in a cage with a swarm of mad bees he will handle them like molasses taffy. Honey is to be extracted free at the Minnesota State Fair this year. $63,000 FURTHER SHORTAGE LOOMS UP

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 19.—It is officially reported that the deputy state examiners reports show that $63,000, supposedly loaned school funds, are unaccounted for. The period extended from August 1, 1910 to February 10, 1916. The investigation was started when Treasurer Gooding succeeded Smith.

Among the discrepancies appear these: District No. 7, of Crow Wing county, A. J. Olson, treasurer; Deerwood, two loans aggregating $1400 made in March and November, 1911, by the treasurer. Claimed to have no record of this loan from the state, District No. 142, Todd county, G. M. Faure, treasurer, Gray Eagle, $500 March, 1911. It is claimed he received only $303.

Inquiry at the county auditor's office in Brainerd revealed the fact that the loans made by District No. 7, Deerwood, include $11,000 and $4000 in the year 1911 and $2,000 in 1904. A bond of $1000 due this year, was paid by the district. The district now owes $14,000. No record appears of any $1400 loan made in March and November, 1911.

"RAGS" IS DEAD

Well Known Bull Terrier of James Alderman Was Run Over by the Fire Truck

RAGS
Born Aug. 19, 1907
Died Aug. 19, 1916

"Rags," the bull terrier of James Alderman, known to every baseball fan and other resident of Brainerd, is dead. It happened while Rags was leading the big motor fire truck to a fire and Rags got in the way and there was a bark, a gasp and it was all over.

Rags attended every ball game Cook's Colts played. He would take up his station back of the catcher and when Brainerd was losing, would yell about the field to instill courage in the tail enders. One day he fielded a short ball and escaped to the rear with the ball in his mouth. It nearly disrupted the game, which was a close one, and the umpire looked all through the rule book to see what to do when a bull terrier cuts in to help the home team out of a hole.

Rags' friends, and he had hosts of them, wiped away tears when they heard of his untimely death. He was nine years old, Mr. Alderman acquiring him from A. W. Northrup, who bought the dog from Tom Irwin, of St. Cloud.

Farmers to Organize to Get Good Prices

(By United Press)

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 19.—Spring wheat growers through both the Dakotas and Minnesota today conferred here on a plan to combine and demand what they consider legitimate prices for their grain. O. S. Morris of the editorial department of the Non Partisan Leader, Fargo, was one of the speakers. The Leader is the organ of the Farmers Party that recently swept North Dakota in a political primary victory.

"Each raiser of spring wheat will get a chance to tell of the cost of production of spring wheat," said Morris today. "We shall then add a reasonable profit and arrive at a reasonable price per bushel. When that price isn't paid, farmers will be equipped to store the wheat a sufficient length of time to command the proper price. Discrimination must be stopped."

DULUTH TO FARGO TRAIL ASSOCIATION

Organization to be Formed for Purpose of Putting Road Through to Head of Lakes

WOULD GO THROUGH BRAINERD
Carlton, McGregor, Aitkin, Deerwood, Staples and Wadena, Following Line to Fargo

The Dispatch was informed by phone from Wadena this morning that a meeting had been called at that place for Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 22, for the purpose of organizing what is to be known as the Duluth-Fargo Trail Association, the idea being to perfect an organization that will put a road through from the head of the great lakes to Fargo. The proposed line starting from Duluth will go through Carlton, McGregor, Aitkin, Deerwood, Brainerd, Staples, Wadena and on to the destination passing through the principal cities along the route of the Northern Pacific. Each of the above places will be represented at the Tuesday next meeting by citizens interested in the movement and at that time the various details will be worked out and the building of the trail launched.

This route would be of inestimable value to Brainerd and an effort should be made to send a good strong delegation to this meeting in an effort to boost the proposition.

Further details of the organization will undoubtedly be forthcoming on Monday and The Dispatch will endeavor to lay the plans before the people of this city that they may act intelligently on the matter.

Resumes Oriental Passenger Service

(By United Press)

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company will resume its Oriental passenger service tomorrow when the oil burning, 10,000 ton steamer "Ecuador" gets under way from here for Honolulu, Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai, Manila and Hong Kong. The Pacific Mail company quit the trans-Pacific trade when the seamen's law became effective, on the theory that the law imposed too many hardships on the steamship companies for the trade to be a paying proposition. But with freight bringing $20 a ton because of the war shortage of ships the company was soon reorganized.

As the new ships are oil burners they do away with the picturesque but uncomfortable process of taking on coal at Oriental ports. Travelers probably will be glad to change the romance of this spectacle for the more prosaic act of taking on oil. Oil is taken in much as water. A long procession of orientals used to load the ships with coal from hand-baskets, also loading the passengers' eyes, ears, noses, throats and luggage with a lot of coal dust.

Period Furnishing.

"Period furnishing is splendid when intelligently done," said a decorator. "A regency drawing room, an empire dining room, a Charles II. library—a house so furnished is delightful."

"But you must buy your period things from dealers who know their business. Some dealers don't. I once heard a lady say to a dealer:

"This chair is Louis XVI, but my drawing room, you know, is Louis XIV. Would that chair go in it then?" "Sure, madam, sure!" said the dealer. "Louis XIV. and Louis XVI. always go together. You see, there's only two years between 'em."—Washington Star.

Snowdrop Superstitions.

Those who have tried it declare that the petals of snowdrops dried and crushed to powder make a fragrant and exhilarating snuff. However, some of our country folk who fill their pipes with all kinds of weeds as substitutes for tobacco might not care to hand round a box filled with snowdrop snuff.

In many rural parts of England the snowdrop is a flower of ill repute. It is unlucky to carry the first spray of the season into the house, and it is a barbarous act to offer snowdrops to any one of the opposite sex. FISH ARE DYING BY THE THOUSAND

Reports of a Vast Number of Dead Fish Being Blown Ashore in Many Lakes Prevalent

CONDITION EXISTS IN GULL LAKE

Experts say it is the Result of Hot Weather, while Others Attribute it to Tuberculosis

Many reports of fish dying in the lakes in the surrounding country have been received and the condition has been viewed with alarm by many who have noted the increase in the number of fish so affected as the season advanced. George Moody, who owns a summer home near Squaw Point, on south Gull lake, says that for some time the dead fish have been coming up on the shore near that point and that without exaggeration he has buried more than a ton of them. The fish are of the trollope species with some pickerel and pike, but the trollope predominates. Inquiry of those who claim to know brings the answer that the fish are killed by the hot weather, while others claim that tuberculosis has overtaken them. This same condition has been noticed in other years and at one time the cause of the large number of dead fish was laid to the Section Tanners as coming from the use of dynamite, but this theory has been exploded as they have long since quit their operations on the lake. The Wadena Pioneer has the following article in regard to conditions in that section, which are practically the same as here, although the fish are spoken of as white fish. Trollopes are sometimes erroneously called white fish owing to the close resemblance, but Game Warden Reardon says no white fish have been affected in this section:

Dr. J. A. Schacht spent Sunday at Otter Tail lake and reports that body of water literally covered with dead and dying whitefish. As far as the eye can see the water is covered with them and the shores in some places are piled high with them where the wind and high waves have tossed them.

An examination of the fish reveals a red ring at the edge of the gills and death appears to be gradual for they have been picked up still breathing. No one has thus far attempted a diagnosis nor sent any fish in to the state department for analysis.

Dr. Schacht states that E. T. Carroll reports the same condition prevailing at Lake Blanche so far as the whitefish are concerned. While the majority of those found are of normal size it is not infrequently that some enormous big fellows are tossed upon shore. Fish, the size of which has seldom been seen in this section, have been found by the cottagers there.

Not a few are inclined to the belief that it might be tuberculosis

Young people who use judgement and foresight choose the Little Falls Business College as the place to get their training. They are not satisfied with anything but the best. This is why they are successful.

Why should young people come from Saskatchewan, Can., to the Little Falls Business College?

Why should young people leave their home town and go right through Minneapolis to get to Little Falls just to attend the Little Falls Business College?

Why should young people come from the Dakotas to the Little Falls Business College? Already students from these places have enrolled for the Fall Term.

They are young people who are not willing to take any chances on getting anything but the very best. They are not going to let a few dollars for car fare and living expense stand between them and a successful future.

$63,000 FURTHER SHORTAGE LOOMS UP

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 19.—It is officially reported that the deputy state examiners reports show that $63,000, supposedly loaned school funds, are unaccounted for. The period extended from August 1, 1910 to February 10, 1916. The investigation was started when Treasurer Gooding succeeded Smith.

Among the discrepancies appear these: District No. 7, of Crow Wing county, A. J. Olson, treasurer; Deerwood, two loans aggregating $1400 made in March and November, 1911, by the treasurer. Claimed to have no record of this loan from the state, District No. 142, Todd county, G. M. Paure, treasurer, Gray Eagle, $500 March, 1911. It is claimed he received only $303.

Inquiry at the county auditor's office in Brainerd revealed the fact that the loans made by District No. 7, Deerwood, include $11,000 and $4000 in the year 1911 and $2,000 in 1904. A bond of $1000 due this year, was paid by the district. The district now owes $14,000. No record appears of any $1400 loan made in March and November, 1911.

"RAGS" IS DEAD

Well Known Bull Terrier of James Alderman Was Run Over by the Fire Truck

RAGS
Born Aug. 19, 1907
Died Aug. 19, 1916

"Rags," the bull terrier of James Alderman, known to every baseball fan and other resident of Brainerd, is dead. It happened while Rags was leading the big motor fire truck to a fire and Rags got in the way and there was a bark, a gasp and it was all over.

Rags attended every ball game Cook's Colts played. He would take up his station back of the catcher and when Brainerd was losing, would yell about the field to instill courage in the tall ends. One day he fielded a short bunt and escaped to the rear with the ball in his mouth. It nearly disrupted the game, which was a close one, and the umpire looked all through the rule book to see what to do when a bull terrier cuts in to help the home team out of a hole.

Rags' friends, and he had hosts of them, wiped away tears when they heard of his untimely death. He was nine years old. Mr. Alderman, acquiring him from A. W. Northrup, who bought the dog from Tom Irwin, of St. Cloud.

OH! MY BACK!

The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer in Brainerd

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills revive sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Here's Brainerd proof:

J. C. Beck, carpenter, 809 Tenth St., S., Brainerd, says: "I couldn't stoop without pain and was hardly able to do any work at all. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and they soon fixed me up all right. I was able to again work as usual and I haven't been obliged to take any kidney medicine since."

Seeking to Interest the Shops in Piston Lubricator Now Used by Eight Railways

Bert H. Smith, of Fairbury, Neb., a prominent inventor, is in Brainerd. He was born and raised in Brainerd, attended school here, leaving in 1900. At Fairbury he is the president of the Willbert Manufacturing Co., and has invented and is manufacturing a hard grease piston lubricator. It has been adopted by the Rock Island and eight other railways and Mr. Smith was seeking to interest the Brainerd shops in the lubricators for pistons and steam valves.

Mr. Smith is also general foreman of the Nebraska division of the Rock Island lines and at Chicago will attend the general foremen's convention and exhibit his invention there. He is a brother of Clarence Smith of this city.

At the Best
"Fate's Boomerang," the latest World Film release in which Moille King is the featured star, will be the attraction at the Best theatre tonight. It is in five parts and deals with the trials of a man desperately in love with his wife, who is sent to supervise the building of a railroad in the western mountains. His wife, fond of society life, refuses to leave her life of pleasure for the open and restricted life of the forests, only to find later, that her mother instincts are stronger than her desire for gaiety, but alas! It is too late. The husband is now growing with the railroad, getting bigger and bigger each day. Having met the little mother of the hills, mated with her and in her finds the true love that his heart has sought for so long. It is staged in a wonderful scenic atmosphere and its story is bound to please all lovers of strong and strange romance.

Farmers to Organize to Get Good Prices

(By United Press)

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 19.—Spring wheat growers through both the Dakotas and Minnesota today conferred here on a plan to combine and demand what they consider legitimate prices for their grain. O. S. Morris of the editorial department of the Non Partisan Leader, Fargo, was one of the speakers. The leader is the organ of the Farmers Party that recently swept North Dakota in a political primary victory.

"Each raiser of spring wheat will get a chance to tell of the cost of production of spring wheat," said Morris today. "We shall then add a reasonable profit and arrive at a reasonable price per bushel. When that price isn't paid, farmers will be equipped to store the wheat a sufficient length of time to command the proper price. Discrimination must be stopped."

DULUTH TO FARGO TRAIL ASSOCIATION

Organization to be Formed for Purpose of Putting Road Through to Head of Lakes

WOULD GO THROUGH BRAINERD
Carlton, McGregor, Aitkin, Deerwood, Staples and Wadena, Following Line to Fargo

The Dispatch was informed by phone from Wadena this morning that a meeting had been called at that place for Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 22, for the purpose of organizing what is to be known as the Duluth-Fargo Trail Association, the idea being to perfect an organization that will put a road through from the head of the great lakes to Fargo. The proposed line starting from Duluth will go through Carlton, McGregor, Aitkin, Deerwood, Brainerd, Staples, Wadena and on to the destination passing through the principal cities along the route of the Northern Pacific. Each of the above places will be represented at the Tuesday next meeting by citizens interested in the movement and at that time the various details will be worked out and the building of the trail launched.

This route would be of inestimable value to Brainerd and an effort should be made to send a good strong delegation to this meeting in an effort to boost the proposition.

Further details of the organization will undoubtedly be forthcoming on Monday and The Dispatch will endeavor to lay the plans before the people of this city that they may act intelligently on the matter.

Resumes Oriental Passenger Service

(By United Press)

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company will resume its Oriental passenger service tomorrow when the oil burning, 10,000 ton steamer "Ecuador" gets under way from here for Honolulu, Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai, Manila and Hong Kong. The Pacific Mail company quit the trans-Pacific trade when the seamen's law became effective, on the theory that the law imposed too many hardships on the steamship companies for the trade to be a paying proposition. But with freight bringing $20 a ton because of the war shortage of ships the company was soon reorganized.

As the new ships are oil burners they do away with the picturesque but uncomfortable process of taking on coal at Oriental ports. Travelers probably will be glad to change the romance of this spectacle for the more prosaic act of taking on oil. Oil is taken in much as water. A long procession of orientals used to load the ships with coal from hand-baskets, also loading the passengers' eyes, ears, noses, throats and luggage with a lot of coal dust.

TERRIFIC STORM ON GULF COAST

Tents in Military Camps Razed by High Wind.

HEAVY DAMAGE MAY RESULT

Wires Are Out of Commission and Only Meager Reports Are Available. Small Vessel is Lost in Gulf and Nine Men Are Believed to Have Perished.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 19.—Corpus Christi, Tex., a city of about 20,000 population, a popular resort on the Texas coast, it appeared, would receive the brunt of the tropical storm and hurricane approaching the United States from the West Indies.

The storm has cost the lives of nine men of the steamer Pilot Boy, it is feared.

The boat was a small freighter and went down in the Gulf of Mexico and only three of the crew of twelve men have been accounted for.

Corpus Christi is 200 miles south of Galveston and 125 miles north of Brownsville and the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The crest of the storm was expected to strike Corpus Christi when a 120-mile an hour gale was expected, according to the forecasts of the weather bureau there.

While the storm was reported to be headed for some point near the mouth of the Rio Grande, Brownsville reported over the army wireless at Fort Brown that only broken windows, leveled fences and trees and the razing of tents in the military camps near Brownsville has resulted.

United States soldiers and national guardsmen from Illinois, Iowa and Virginia were forced into the city to take refuge in the city hall, court-house and warehouses, where they took two days' rations.

Communication by telegraph and telephone was lost from Brownsville. The wind velocity there reached a maximum of sixty miles an hour.

The scope of the storm extended from Corpus Christi on the north to Tampico on the south.

Corpus Christi was without electricity or other conveniences. The fury of the wind at that place had stripped the city of electric light and power facilities.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Final action on the Philippine bill, promising independence to the islands as soon as a stable government is established was taken in the house when the conference report was adopted and the measure is prepared for President Wilson's signature, the only action remaining to make it a law.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The government shipping bill passed the senate by a vote of 38 to 21, ending one of the most bitterly contested legislative struggles of the Wilson administration.

Legs That Hear.

One of the strangest and most unexpected of the uses to which we could imagine a leg as being put is that of an organ of hearing. Yet such seems to be one at least of the functions of the fore legs in the cricket. On the outer side of the tibia a small oval space may be seen, in which the strong armature which covers the rest of the body is reduced to a thin and membranous condition, making thus a sort of window or drumhead. Communicating with this, inside the leg, are the ends of a nerve, and it can hardly be doubted, therefore, that the whole apparatus constitutes an auditory organ.

ARMY BILL VETOED BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, Aug. 19.—President Wilson has vetoed the army appropriation bill because of exemption from discipline for retired officers forced into it by the house conferees led by Representative Hay over the opposition of the war department.

A new bill will be necessary and may delay adjournment of congress. Representative Hay said he would reintroduce the bill in the house immediately, with the features to which the president objected eliminated.

Mr. Hay followed his announcement by reintroducing the bill, minus not only the section to which the president objected, but with the whole revision of the articles of war eliminated. This threatened to complicate the situation.

BOILING WATER.

It is Not Always Hot and Sometimes May Be Barely Heated.

If you send yourself with the teakettle you are apt to think that boiling water is a pretty hot proposition. But boiling water is not always very hot water, and this is the way it happens.

When water boils ordinarily it is because great heat has separated the tiny particles of the water, forcing upward and outward in lively bubbles the air which is contained in them. This is done in spite of the downward pressure of the atmosphere. After the water has become hot enough to boil it can get no hotter, because the air escapes as fast as it is sufficiently heated to do so.

There are places on the earth where the pressure of the atmosphere upon the water is so slight that it requires but little heat to push apart the particles and set free the air bubbles which are confined in the water, so it begins to boil before it becomes very hot. It ought hardly to be called cold water, perhaps, but it is certainly far from being as hot as ordinarily boiling water. This state of things is found on all high mountain tops, as the atmosphere grows weaker and its pressure less as one ascends.

A man traveling at a great elevation in the Andes mountains put some potatoes in a pot of water over a hot fire. The water began to boil almost immediately, but the potatoes did not cook. All the afternoon and all the night the water bubbled and boiled, but still the potatoes were not cooked. The boiling water was not hot enough.

Girls With Beautiful Faces or Graceful Figures

American girls have a world-wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are girls in our cities who possess neither beauty of face nor form, because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of disorders of the womanly organism. At regular intervals they suffer so much that their strength leaves them; they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength. Of course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. The withered and drawn faces, the dark circles and crow's feet about the eyes, the straight figure without those curves which lend so much to feminine beauty are the unmistakable signs of womanly disorders.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth that keeps the entire female system perfectly regulated and in excellent condition.

Mothers, if your daughters are weak, lack ambition, are troubled with headaches, lassitude and are pale and sickly, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just what they need to surely bring the bloom of health to their cheeks and make them strong and healthy.

If you are a sufferer, if you daughter, mother, sister need help, get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in liquid or tablet form. Then address Dr. Pierce Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential advice from a staff of specialists, that's free; also 136-page book on woman's diseases sent free.

TERRIFIC STORM ON GULF COAST

Tents in Military Camps Razed by High Wind.

HEAVY DAMAGE MAY RESULT

Wires Are Out of Commission and Only Meager Reports Are Available. Small Vessel Is Lost in Gulf and Nine Men Are Believed to Have Perished.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 19.—Corpus Christi, Tex., a city of about 20,000 population, a popular resort on the Texas coast, it appeared, would receive the brunt of the tropical storm and hurricane approaching the United States from the West Indies. The storm has cost the lives of nine men of the steamer Pilot Boy, it is feared.

The boat was a small freighter and went down in the Gulf of Mexico and only three of the crew of twelve men have been accounted for.

Corpus Christi is 200 miles south of Galveston and 125 miles north of Brownsville and the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The crest of the storm was expected to strike Corpus Christi when a 120-mile an hour gale was expected, according to the forecasts of the weather bureau there.

While the storm was reported to be headed for some point near the mouth of the Rio Grande, Brownsville reported over the army wireless at Fort Brown that only broken windows, leveled fences and trees and the razing of tents in the military camps near Brownsville has resulted.

United States soldiers and national guardsmen from Illinois, Iowa and Virginia were forced into the city to take refuge in the city hall, court-house and warehouses, where they took two days' rations.

Legs That Hear.

One of the strangest and most unexpected of the uses to which we could imagine a leg as being put is that of an organ of hearing. Yet such seems to be one at least of the functions of the fore legs in the cricket. On the outer side of the tibia a small oval space may be seen, in which the strong armature which covers the rest of the body is reduced to a thin and membranous condition, making thus a sort of window or drumhead. Communicating with this, inside the leg, are the ends of a nerve, and it can hardly be doubted, therefore, that the whole apparatus constitutes an auditory organ.

ARMY BILL VETOED BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, Aug. 19.—President Wilson has vetoed the army appropriation bill because of exemption from discipline for retired officers forced into it by the house conferees led by Representative Hay over the opposition of the war department.

A new bill will be necessary and may delay adjournment of congress. Representative Hay said he would reintroduce the bill in the house immediately, with the features to which the president objected eliminated.

Mr. Hay followed his announcement by reintroducing the bill, minus not only the section to which the president objected, but with the whole revision of the articles of war eliminated. This threatened to complicate the situation.

BOILING WATER.

It is Not Always Hot and Sometimes May Be Barely Heated.

If you scald yourself with the teakettle you are apt to think that boiling water is a pretty hot proposition. But boiling water is not always very hot water, and this is the way it happens.

When water boils ordinarily it is because great heat has separated the tiny particles of the water, forcing upward and outward in lively bubbles the air which is contained in them. This is done in spite of the downward pressure of the atmosphere. After the water has become hot enough to boil it can get no hotter, because the air escapes as fast as it is sufficiently heated to do so.

There are places on the earth where the pressure of the atmosphere upon the water is so slight that it requires but little heat to push apart the particles and set free the air bubbles which are confined in the water, so it begins to boil before it becomes very hot. It ought hardly to be called cold water, perhaps, but it is certainly far from being as hot as ordinarily boiling water. This state of things is found on all high mountain tops, as the atmosphere grows weaker and its pressure less as one ascends.

A man traveling at a great elevation in the Andes mountains put some potatoes in a pot of water over a hot fire. The water began to boil almost immediately, but the potatoes did not cook. All the afternoon and all the night the water bubbled and boiled, but still the potatoes were not cooked. The boiling water was not hot enough.

Girls With Beautiful Faces or Graceful Figures

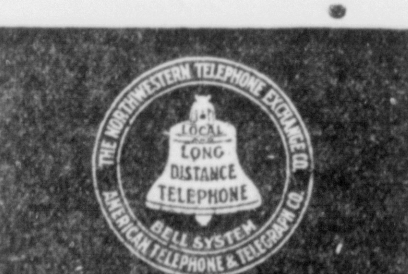

American girls have a world-wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are girls in our cities who possess neither beauty of face nor form, because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of disorders of the womanly organism. At regular intervals they suffer so much that their strength leaves them; they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength. Of course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. The withered and drawn faces, the dark circles and crow's feet about the eyes, the straight figure without those curves which lend so much to feminine beauty are the unmistakable signs of womanly disorders.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth that keeps the entire female system perfectly regulated and in excellent condition.

Mothers, if your daughters are weak, lack ambition, are troubled with headaches, lassitude and are pale and sickly, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just what they need to surely bring the bloom of health to their cheeks and make them strong and healthy.

If you are a sufferer, if you daughter, mother, sister need help, get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in liquid or tablet form. Then address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential advice from a staff of specialists, that's free; also 136-page book on woman's diseases sent free.
